NEW BEDFORD HIGH SCHOOL

Joe Letourneau, a member of the senior class, designed the cover of the Crimson Log 2003. When asked where he got his ideas from, he replied, "I let my pencil roam. Wherever my mind goes, whatever fleeting ideas come through, I record it." Joe went on to say, "I wanted to keep the design simple and powerful, using solid, thick, clean lines which would best suit the medium." He has been drawing since he was three years old. Joe's words show his gratitude at being given the chance to create the cover, "designing the cover was an interesting once-in-a-lifetime opportunity."

The Trip of a Lifetime

We've already packed our bags and squished into the car. We've filled up the gas tank and bought some snacks for the long ride ahead. We've followed the directions carefully and asked for help when we got lost. We've seen new places and experienced things we never thought possible. We learned so much, including new things about ourselves and our friends. The sun is setting soon and our trip is almost over.

We started this trip as young, eager freshmen who thought for sure we'd get lost trying to get to the right house, never mind the right floor or room. In our homerooms, we tried to decipher what exactly 4-312 meant.

*"Freshman year was a time of adjusting."
-Nicholas Sullivan*

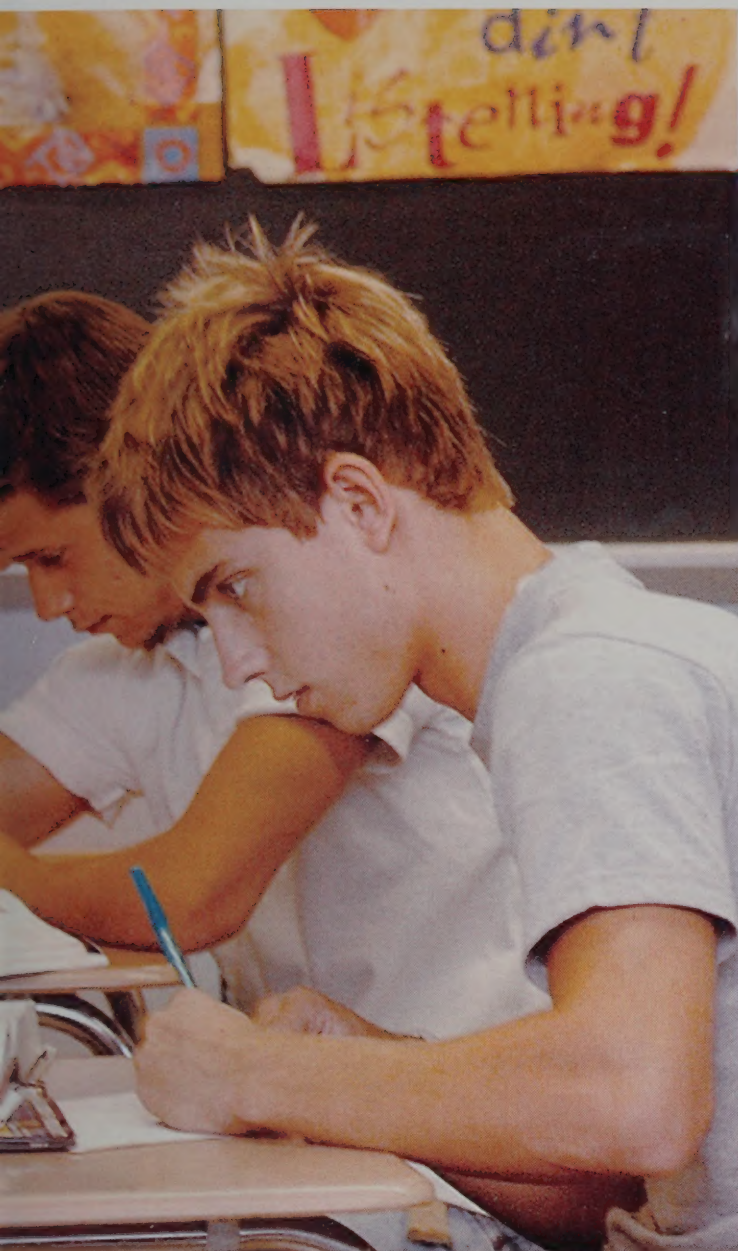

Surprisingly we all made it to class in a reasonable amount of time, and made it through the day with only a few bumps and bruises. That day we began what everyone remembers as the "good old days." We laid the grounds for new friendships and new adventures, and we were ready to go.

(Above) This sums it all up, it's finally our time to relax.

As sophomore year began, we were a little wiser, a little tougher. The fact that we weren't the new guys got to our heads, and being the first class that had to pass the MCAS in order to graduate didn't help.

As junior year began, we were excited for what the year ahead held. We had grown a lot in two years and we actually began to see the truth behind "the choices you make today, shape your world tomorrow."

We had high expectations for junior year and it proved to be as great as we had hoped. The whole year was filled with anticipation for our first class gathering, the Junior Banquet, and it was better than expected - we made great memories that we won't soon forget. After this we were ready to be seniors and rule the school. Nothing could compare to the feeling of participating in the celebrated tradition of the Passing of the Whale.

As we entered the building for the first time senior year, we had a much different attitude and view on things than we did when we entered four years earlier. From yearbook surveys to college applications to prom dresses and tuxedos, senior year was filled with responsibility and excitement. No one was pressuring us to do anything, we had to be adults. We'll always remember senior year, the time we reached the point in our lives to put away the toys and learn to take life seriously.

After this, some will go on to college, others into the military, and still others will jump directly into the work force. Some will move away, while others will settle here. No matter what we do, where we go or who we meet along the way, we'll always have a connection - we shared this trip of a lifetime together!

Arriving In Style

For three long years, the class of 2003 had waited for the Junior Banquet.

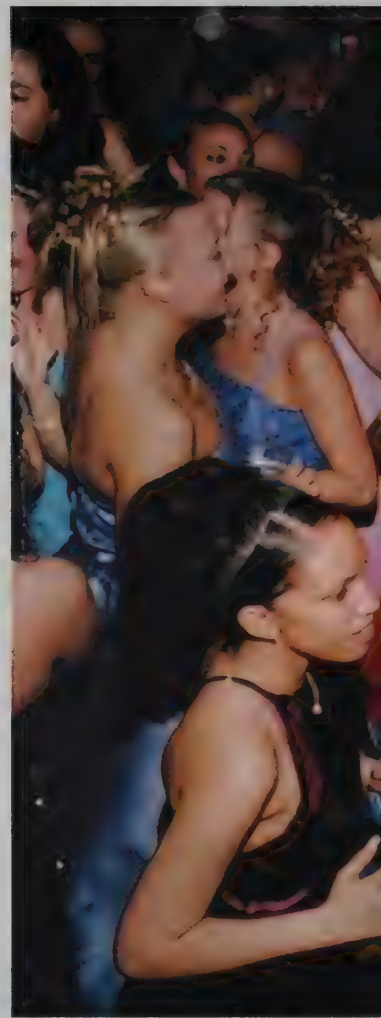

Finally, it was here! The members of the junior class arrived at White's of Westport at 7:00 p.m. The evening began with short speeches by each of the class officers, Mr. Oliver, and the class advisors. Dinner came next with a delicious buffet the best part of the requested songs as well as

*"The night went by too fast! I didn't want it to end."
-Daniela Cruz*

that everyone enjoyed, however, evening was yet to come. With all the popular dance hits, Mr.

Hebert supplied great music for the evening that ranged from square dance favorites like "Cotton-eyed Joe" to romantic slow songs to fast-paced techno hits, and even "Beat It," by Michael Jackson. All too soon the music ended and the lights came on; the class of 2003 could only drive away and anticipate their upcoming senior year.

Passing of the Whale

We had been hearing about this since freshman year, but we had no idea what to expect. We piled into the auditorium to hear speeches filled with excitement from the class officers. Finally it happened, the whale had been passed. And in this moment, we switched gears. We went from riding in the back seat to being behind the wheel. As seniors, we were ready to be in control.

"Good times, good people."

(Right) Adam Spencer rallied up the crowd dressed as the school mascot.

Senior Assembly

The first stop along the way was the traditional Senior Assembly where important senior topics were discussed.

Class President Shardae Gonsalves led the show, introducing all of the special guest speakers.

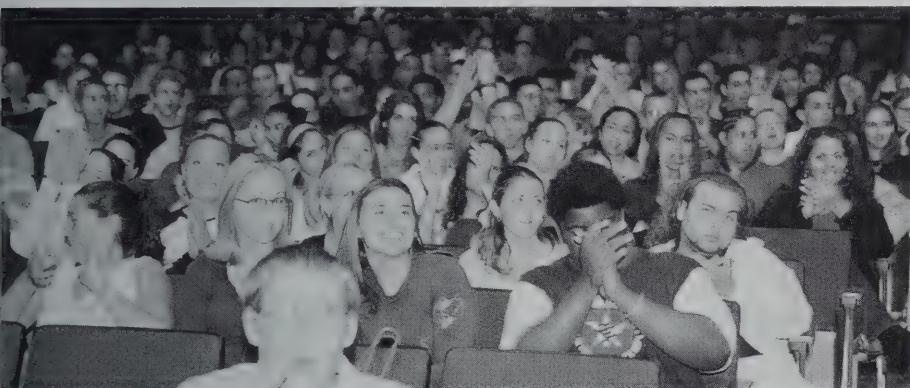

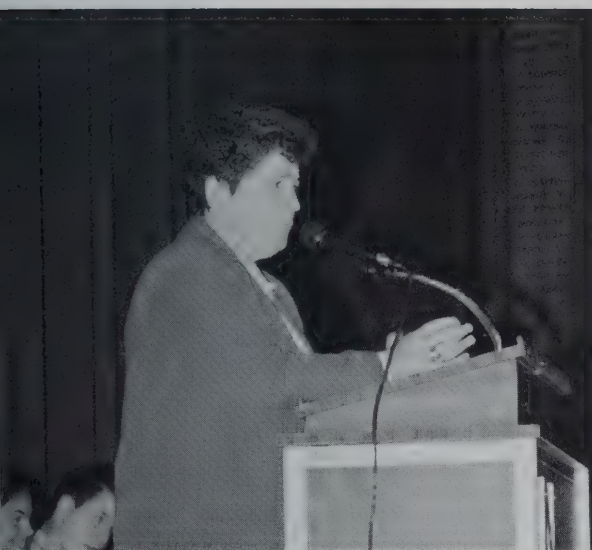

*"I think the senior assembly went very well."
-Shardae Gonsalves,
Senior Class President*

Superintendent Mr. Michael Longo awarded the top three students in our class, James Ferus, Melanie Wolfgang, and Lauren Tessier, with special certificates of merit. Foreign exchange student Julie Berg was presented with a gift and gave a brief speech of her own that rallied the seniors. After this pit stop, we were in drive and roaring along.

Behind the Wheel

While it may feel like our trip through high school just started yesterday, graduation came as quickly as the years passed. We arrived at New Bedford High School as freshmen, not having the slightest idea of what we could expect of ourselves in the years to come. Sophomore year came and it seemed like an eternity before we would be seniors. Then it was our junior year and the thought that we'd soon be leaving New Bedford High School began to sink in. Our senior year finally came and we had many things to look forward to, such as the senior banquet, senior dance, and the prom. We looked toward the future and made decisions about college, careers, and life. As we looked back to reflect upon the years spent at our high school, it seemed like time sped by. All we are left with is the everlasting memories of the years in our home away from home. We crossed over the bridge and started down a new path, leaving our mark on this school as it did on us.

*"Each friend represents a world in us, a world possibly not born until they arrive."
-Anais Nin*

Following Their Own Path

While we traveled along our path we saw many different faces. We got to know some special students that enjoyed many of the same things we did. Brian Roderick's favorite thing to do was "watch the Patriots play football." These seniors were involved in the Transitional Resource Program at school, which taught them to live and survive in the world as independently as possible. Our other program was called the Southeastern Massachusetts Education Collaborative (SMEC), offering social and vocational instruction to help them in their future jobs. All enjoyed the program, especially Joshua Johnson, who said, "I like working at the Boys and Girls Club." They were all planning different things after high school, but all planned to use what they learned at New Bedford High School in continuing down their course.

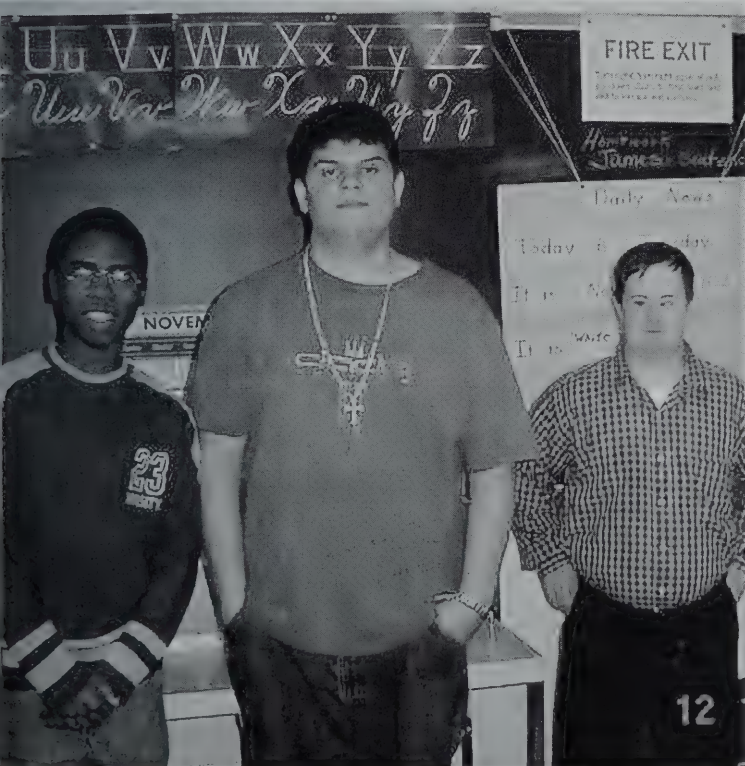

(Above) Sitting at his desk was Michael Adams, who enjoyed the opportunities of the SMEC program very much.

Crossing the Border

August 7th, 2002 was the day that Julie Berg completed the voyage from her home of Copenhagen, Denmark to New Bedford, Massachusetts. Upon arrival to the country, she traveled to Acushnet and was greeted by her host family, the Crumleys. Her first day "was weird but really exciting because it was like high school on T.V." In Julie's school back home there were about 300 students and they didn't have any unique classes like astronomy or clubs like JROTC. Her favorite subject at New Bedford High was psychology. "I always liked reading psychology books," she commented. She joined the school's swim team and show choir and thought about track too. "We don't have that kind of stuff in Denmark, and I like sports," she mentioned.

"I miss my friends so much and of course my family," said Julie.

She also wished she could enjoy some of her mom's lasagna, which was her favorite food back home. She was having lots of fun here, but her time was short; in July of 2003 Julie returned home. She said she would always remember how big New Bedford High was and she would miss "all the people and my friends." The people were so nice to her; it was hard to say good-bye. For the rest of her life she will always have the memories of her trip here to New Bedford High School.

"Our Golf team was strong this year and accomplished many of our goals," said Adam Bergevin.

Enroute To Victory

As we trekked further along the course of our high school years, many of us shared more things in common than we had thought. Through the years we've participated in sports, we've made friendships and we've challenged ourselves to go above and beyond. Whether it was soccer, swimming, basketball or track, we put in countless hours of pushing ourselves to go faster and longer. We gave everything for the team, and the improvement of ourselves. Blood, sweat and tears have gone into our performances, constantly making us face the question, "How much are you willing to give and how much pain are you willing to endure?" We've been through the tough times and the disappointments of losing, but we've encouraged each other and believed in what each of us was doing and could achieve. Whether we go on and continue our sports past high school or stop after high school, the memories of the years we spent in play and the people we knew will remain with us for years to come. So whatever your journey, continue striving down the road of success.

"To give anything less than your best is to sacrifice the gift."

Off Roading

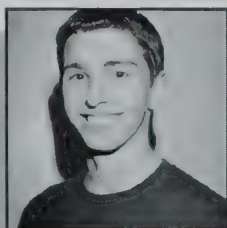

This year the Boys' Cross Country team exceeded Coach Gardiner's expectations. Captain Bruce Nicely led the team to a great season. The Whalers began their season off with a 2-1 record with only a one-point loss at Marshfield.

"We're a little better than I thought we were," said Coach Gardiner. The boys finished up the season with 5-3-1 record and ranked 1-1 in the Big Three Conference. Coach Gardiner stated that the most memorable meet this year was a tie breaker between NBHS and Falmouth.

This year's team definitely had talent. In the match against Dartmouth, Sr. captain Bruce Nicely ran a time of 17:58 and junior Zack Patten ran in 18 minutes flat, as the Whalers took the top two spots. The team had great character.

The Girls Cross Country Team learned the value of being strong and having a good attitude. Finishing off their season with the record of 2-7, Coach Gardiner had hoped for a more promising season, but he said that the girls gave it their all.

Every member of the team contributed to the season. Senior captain Sharon Michaud made sure that the girls bonded as a team. Throughout the season, every runner showed tremendous improvement even though they didn't come out of the season with the best record.

Coach Gardiner said, "The team was small, and we knew it was going to be a difficult season." That didn't stop him, however, from pushing and supporting them.

The Lady Whaler field hockey team had a season they will never forget. It was filled with good times, laughter, and tears. They finished with a 8-6-4 record.

Leading their memorable season was Katie Cote, Shardae Gonsalves, and Jasmin Tabares. "Their team spirit was always up and there was never a dull moment," said Coach Rezendes.

One of the most memorable moments for the team, especially for the seniors, was beating Dartmouth! Every girl played a role, and they all came together as one to win.

In closing, one of the most memorable chapters of our lives was playing field hockey for New Bedford High School. The five senior girls believed this quote to sum up how they felt, "We always knew we would look back on our tears and laugh, but we never knew we would look back on our laughter and cry." Good luck next season girls!

Road Rage

A season of injuries brought down the talented Whalers' record but not their uplifting spirits. The end result of this season was a 3-8 record.

The Whalers began their season strong with an astonishing 44-14 victory over the Taunton Tigers. Simmons was on track in that game scoring four touchdowns, two were within 15 seconds. Also, quarterback Thomas Balestracci did an excellent job with one rising touchdown and two touchdown passes both to Simmons. Also scoring was Sr. Michael Cromwell and junior Derek Correia.

After winning two games in a row and losing the next three, their win over Attleboro improved NBHS's confidence with a 20-0 triumph, but the injury factor diminished their hope of a better record. Head Coach Hamlet left his team with a few words of wisdom, "Make the best of every opportunity that comes before you because there's so much to offer in life."

The New Bedford High School golf team left their skid marks on the green with an impressive record of 16-4. Tri-Captain Edward Smith said it "was a great way to give back to Coach Crompton for all of his hard work and dedication because it was the first time coaching a team that had over 15 wins in a season."

Capturing the Big Three Championship with a league record of 3-1, the golf team didn't stop there. Senior Captains Edward Smith, Lauren Motyl and Adam Bergevin, along with Seniors Peter Clerc, Ross Maguire, and Ryan Donovan gave an all-around great effort at States. In the M.I.A.A. State Individual Championship, Lauren Motyl placed second, despite an unexpected bump in the road of having her appendix removed two and a half weeks prior to the tournament. With a drive of 288 yards and 6 inches, Lauren was named the 2002 Re-Max Junior World Long Drive Champion.

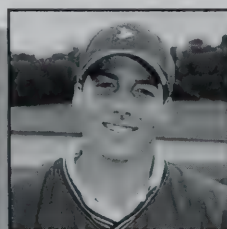

"It was great playing for New Bedford High. I looked back on my final season knowing I had great teammates and a lot of fun," remarked Lauren.

The boys' soccer team had an inspiring 2002 season. They came together as a team and it really showed. Winning the Big Three Conference was one of their greatest accomplishments.

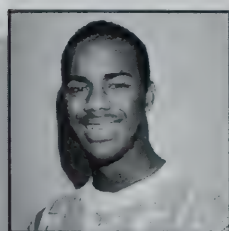

This was John Macaroco's second year coaching the varsity team. He was the former coach of the freshmen team for eight years. He stated, "This year the boy's soccer team did excellent."

With their astonishing record of 9-5-2, each player's talent was displayed during the year. They overcame many obstacles throughout the season. Tri-captains, who kept the whaler spirit alive, were Steven Colon, Jose Sindo, and Antonio Correia. Contributions were made by all three of the captains. Senior Aaron Griffith says, "This team really grew on me, it's been a part of me for four years and I'll never forget it."

Leaving the seniors and the rest of the team, Coach Macaroco offered some advice, "Be really committed and focused on what you do."

Unity was something you can definitely say the girl's soccer team had this year. Every single girl on the field played a strong role and all of them pulled together as one.

The girls started out undefeated and finished with a great record of 9-3-3. Coach Magalhaes said that the team exceeded his expectations for the season. The girls had an immense amount of confidence and it showed in their performance.

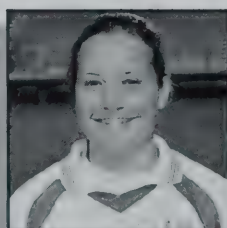

Tri-captains were Gretchen Rodrigues, Heather Macedo and Jennifer Robert. All three girls gave 110% to the team and never let their guard down. Their 5-1 win against Durfee left smiles on their faces knowing they defeated NBHS's Big 3 rivals.

The 2002-2003 swimming and diving team had an exceptional season, finishing up with an 8-5 record. Head Coach Tim Curry said, "Our goal was to qualify for state's and sectionals."

The girls did accomplish their goal and placed 10th in sectionals and 13th in states. The girls that qualified were Victoria Briand, Meaghan Coache, Julie Burns, Holly Rapoza, Christie Sylvia, Katelyn Chase, Tricia Sullivan, Jessica Huckabee, and Jill Coache.

Tri-captains Meaghan Coache, Holly Rapoza, and Christie Sylvia left a mark on this year's team. Christie Sylvia broke the 100 backstroke record, which she was very proud of. Holly Rapoza said, "We were pretty good, we lost a lot of girls due to graduation, but still had a winning season." Coach Curry seemed very optimistic throughout the year and hoped that next year's team could uphold a great season also.

The Lady Whalers had an unbelievable 2002 fall season. Coach Macedo was very proud of his team. Their season was filled with a lot of victory and triumph. They had an excellent regular season, finishing 15-5 and winning the Big 3 Co-Champs with Brockton. The girls held the 4th seed in the tournament.

Along with a memorable season, Tracy Sedlack managed to break two long-standing school records. The first was a match record of 21 kills and the second season record of 260 kills, which was previously held by Assistant Coach Toomey. Jenn Marder also broke the assists in a match record of 41.

Coach Macedo summed up the team's performance by saying, "Overall it was a great season, our defense improved drastically from the beginning of the season until the end. Finally, during the tournament the team came together offensively and defensively. They played with the best of their ability, although they lost the semifinals to the #1 seeded Barnstable team. The girls never gave up and worked hard until the end of the year."

"Always put your heart into the game, keep your heads held high, and never give up," co-captain Liz Masson left this advice for the team.

No U-Turns

The Whalers made an amazing attempt during their 2002-2003 season. With many senior players leaving last year, this year's leaders led their team in the right direction.

One of the most amazing games was when New Bedford hosted Jamaica, New York. The guys won that game by one point. "It was probably one of the most intense games we played all season," said head coach Rodrigues.

The captains who made the the season an enjoyable one to watch were Ian Mello, Nick Silva, Tom Balestracci and Joseph Clement. Their finish in the Big 3 conference was a little disappointing, but our Whalers still played a tremendous winter season.

The Whalers' gymnastic team had a remarkable and progressive season. Every individual had their strengths, which was shown through the team's performance. Despite their final record, they did try their hardest throughout the season.

No matter what the outcome was, they still maintained a great attitude. Junior captain Kayla Kim provided the team with excellent leadership and amazing scores. She will still have her senior year to lead the team to another astonishing season.

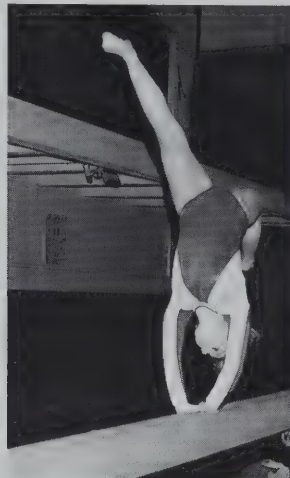

Newcomer head coach, Miss Fortes, and assistant coach Levesque are so glad they took the positions this year. "The girls were a pleasure to work with," stated Coach Fortes. Both coaches have proven that their experience in coaching has done them well. Next season the team will have Kayla Kim and Elizabeth Fontaine to guide the new 2003-2004 gymnastic team.

Black Ice Ahead

In their 2002-2003 season, the Whaler hockey team played hard and strong even though they faced many hardships. Chris Flood knew that they all played with a lot of will and skated hard, but they just could not stop some of the other teams.

Even though this was not one of their greatest seasons, the team as a whole put in 100% effort. Captains Brett St. Gelais and Matthew Demetrio tried to bring the Whalers to a winning season. Hopefully, next year Matt Demetrio and the rest of the upcoming varsity players will overcome this year's hardships.

Men At Work

Even though last year the team lost six of its talented players, the Whaler guys proved that they could come together. Wrestlers must maintain a good mental and physical attitude on and off the mat. That was something that was definitely shown this season.

The team was led by captains Jared Logan, Tony Vertentes, and John Marsh. They all contributed to help lead the team to victory. Senior captain Jared Logan said, "You feel great when you win 1 on 1, man to man, the better man wins, and when you win you're better." Coach Pimental had a great effect on the team's overall performance. He improved their athletic skills both mentally and physically.

Pit Stops Along The Way

As we drove down the many roads of high school, some of us decided to take a detour, making our trip more scenic and exciting. Along those detours we've joined in with others who had all shared the same passion and strove toward the same goals. In this time we met countless people who inspired us to accomplish great things. They pushed us to our limits, forcing us to realize the potential we had inside ourselves. We helped people, some complete strangers and others good friends, and in turn found ourselves and learned many important lessons along the way. In looking back at those years we've moved people deeply and made them laugh and cry. We have something to look back at and be proud of. This particular road of our journey will forever be remembered as helping to shape us into the people we are.

I say, 'Why not?'"

Dear Senior Class,
What an exciting four years we've had! Together, we've experienced MCAS to the junior banquet to assemblies to, finally, the prom and graduation. As we part ways, it's important to remember who helped us get to where we are, whether it be our friends in support, our teachers in learning, or our parents and our God in guidance. We are moving to the next stage in our lives, and it is time to say good-bye. Thank you all for a wonderful four years.

Class of 2003,
We finally made it; we're graduating. All the hard work has finally paid off. I know in years to come, when I look back at this book, I'll remember friendships and adventures, crushes and heartaches. Hopefully, you'll get the same feeling when you're skimming the pages. None of this would have been possible, however, without the help of our two advisors, Ms. Oliveira and Mrs. DeSimas, the yearbook staff and our after-school help. Thank you for all your dedication. Also a special thanks to my fellow Editor-in-Chief, Susanna Damgaard. Good luck to all of you in the future.

Vanity Plates

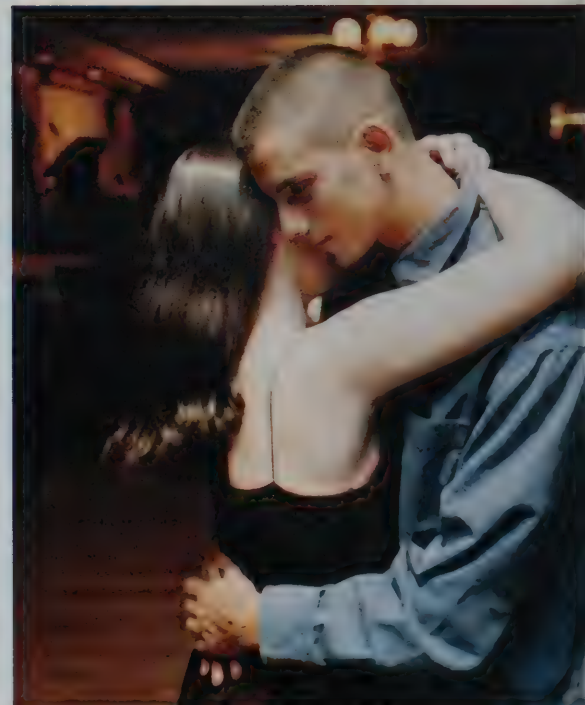

October 18, 2002 is a night many will remember. It was the Senior Banquet for the class of 2003. The night started off with a buffet of various foods. However, this did not last long; everyone wanted to dance.

Jay Mello was the dj and played hits from all genres. From techno hits to Led Zeppelin's "Stairway to Heaven," everyone enjoyed themselves on the dance floor. Before anyone knew, it was eleven o'clock and time to leave. Everyone who attended left that night with new memories that would bring smiles to their faces down the road.

A Driving Spirit

As we drove further along into our senior year, we made a fun stop known as Spirit Week. This year was different. The first day of Spirit Week was senior Dress Up Day. The next five days consisted of Famous People Day, Backwards Day, Bad Hair Day, Color War Day, and Red and White Day.

During the week, spirit links were sold. For this contest, colored links were bought by each class and the class with the longest link won. The seniors' pride resulted in first place, followed by the juniors, sophomores, and freshmen.

The entire school came together to raise $850.00. The NBHS family donated the money to Kurt Costa, the sophomore class president, who was fighting cancer. As Mrs. Oliveira said at the rally, "When one of our family members is hurting, we're hurting too." The spirit of NBHS continues on as we pass this to the next generation of drivers.

As the final day of spirit week came, everyone was excited. The cheerleaders and colorguard ignited the crowd with uplifting cheers and performances. The spirit links were brought out and the winners of the car decorating contest were announced; these were Meaghan Coache, Elizabeth Masson, and Victoria Briand, with Alex Paleologos as runner-up.

The activities began with the annual float contest held at the school. The winners were announced and the senior float came in first place. The senior float had the theme of "Smash Durfee."

Senior class president, Shardae Gonsalves introduced Mr. Oliver, Mr. Correia, and Mayor Kalisz, each speaking of bringing the team to a victory. Once the fire started, it was sad to think it was the last bonfire we would attend as New Bedford High School students.

Paying The Toll

Thanksgiving morning, November 28th, 2002, at the Paul Walsh field was a day never to forget. Our Big Three Rivals, the Durfee Hilltoppers, were one of our challenges that we wanted to defeat. The temperature was 26 degrees but the wind chill made it feel below zero,. It was the first white Thanksgiving since 1990.

Thomas Simmons, one of our key players and co-captains, got injured in the first half and was taken out for the second half, leaving co-captain Tom Balestracci to keep the team's spirit up, trying to bring the team to a victory. Although the boys made a tremendous effort, they finished the game with an 0-28 loss. Coach Wayne Hamlet said, "The season is over and it wasn't one of our best, but our boys played hard, and I wish the seniors the best of luck."

First On The Scene

The production of "It Runs In The Family," put on by the New Bedford High School drama club opened up their fall season on November 14, 2002. The play was a great success and each member of the audience enjoyed it.

This whimsical comedy was about Doctor David Mortimore, played by Matt Braga, who had a run in with nurse and former girlfriend, Tasha Fonseca, from years past. She informed Dr. Mortimore that they have a son together, Leslie. Robert Bartolome played the son, who wanted very much to meet his father. Dr. Mortimore, however, was now a married man and began telling lies to keep this illegitimate son a secret. The play was wonderfully funny and a credit to the New Bedford High Drama Club.

Senior Class Officers

The senior class officers kept busy throughout the year planning meetings, helping to build the Thanksgiving Day football game float, and mediating with the administration about important issues. They proved how hard work brings fun to the senior class.

Class Advisor Mr. Letendre, President Shardae Gonsalves, Vice President Edward Smith, Secretary Daniela Cruz, Class Advisor Mrs. Thomas.

Senior Steering Committee

The senior steering committee's duty is to represent information to the seniors during homeroom period after meetings take place. They rally the students to participate in all senior events, such as Senior Banquet, Spirit Week, Mr. Whaler, and Prom. Senior year is undoubtedly the busiest of all the high school years.

New Bedford

Drum Majors

B. Breton, L. Cabral

The band and colorguard are year-round activities at New Bedford High School. While the band does play for football games and community parades, their season actually begins in early August. Every year, the marching band and colorguard compete in the New England Scholastic Band Association Championships. In mid-November, the band converts into a Wind Ensemble and prepares music for their annual Christmas parades and concerts. In December, the percussion section and colorguard begin their indoor competitive season and look forward to competing at the World Guard and Percussion Championships in April. During April vacation, the band and colorguard usually travel on a competitive tour where they compete in Concert Band, Parade, Indoor Colorguard, Indoor Percussion, and parade competitions. Their performances culminate at the end of June with parades, a Spring Concert, and finally, graduation.

Junior Reserve Off

The Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps is a program designed to motivate young people to be better citizens and to teach them leadership skills. The program also offers cadets a chance to participate as color guards and honor guards in many community and school events throughout the year.

The JROTC was made up of over 250 cadets this school year. The group of cadets is formed into a cadet battalion with one of the cadets appointed as the Battalion Commander. This year's Battalion Commander was Joshua Dayton, a member of the senior class. His principle assistant, or Battalion Executive Officer, was Ryan Pedro, who was also a senior.

The cadets are further divided into companies with a cadet leader who holds the title of Company Commander as the head of that organization. This year the Battalion was divided into the Headquarters Company and four letter companies. Melissa Garcia was lead Alpha Company, Theodore Steliga lead of Bravo Company, Kevin Zbornak was lead Charlie Company and Anecio Moniz lead Delta Company. Also, Sean Guilbeault as Headquarters Commander.

The Battalion Commander is further assisted by a cadet staff, which performs such duties as administration of cadet records, issue and accountability of cadet uniforms, items, and equipment, preparation of training schedule, security of sensitive items, and public relations. Cadets selected for these positions are chosen from the senior and junior classes.

Besides being in a company, many of the students also participated in an after school team. There are many different teams. The Rifle team meets in the range and competes in the Metropolitan Rifle League. The Drill team participates in the Southern New England Junior ROTC Drill League. The Raider team consists of a group of cadets that compete against other schools in events related to military skills. A Drum team prepares for support to the corps of cadets during parades and related activities.

Mr. Whaler 2003

The year was 2012 and Ross Nunes was headmaster of N.B.H.S. Looking through past yearbooks, he realized there was no 2003 Mr. Whaler competition. With the help of Mr. Letendre, Ross went back in time to give the 2002 crown back and allow the 2003 Mr. Whaler to take place.

Sound interesting? Well, that's how this year's Mr. Whaler competition began. With the theme of "Back to the Future," the 19 competitors entered the stage coming out of the famous DeLorean and danced to "Mama Said Knock You Out" by LL Cool J.

During the four portions (casual wear, swim wear, talent and formal wear), the judges were entertained by an array of acts. This year's talents ranged from classical violin music to foolish skateboarding and pogo stick antics.

At the end of the night, Roger DaSilva won 2nd runner up, Eric Cohen won 1st runner up, and Joseph Letourneau was crowned Mr. Whaler. Maybe, if we're lucky, in the year 2012 Ross Nunes will go back in time and let us relive that wonderful night!

Highway Patrol

Cruising through high school there have been lessons we've had to learn, some have been easy and others more difficult. Most we will take with us on the road of life. Teachers have been a constant in our lives when it came to our high school careers. They were continuously there to inspire, challenge, motivate, and comfort us and make us think. They have affected our lives in many ways, ways that may not be recognized now. Somewhere along the line they've done or said something that helped shape us into the people we are now and can continue to become. Most students would be able to name a favorite teacher that encouraged them to accomplish things that they never thought possible. We can't forget the ones who made us laugh and made us want to learn. They tried to teach us lessons that took them a lifetime to learn. We thank them for all they've done to influence our journey to the end of this road and toward the beginning of the next.

"A teacher affects eternity;
he can never tell where his influence stops."

Congratulations to the members of the Class of 2003. You are a unique group of individuals who have been successful on the most stringent standards ever imposed on graduates in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. You have earned this special distinction through your hard work. Your future success will require this same level of dedication. Nothing in life comes easy - you must remain committed to your goals. Set them high and work each and every day to get one step closer. Attaining goals is not an easy task and the most challenging take a long time. You've learned to persevere.

Many challenges lie ahead. Continue to face them head-on and always remember the lessons learned at New Bedford High School. Remember the people who played such an important part in those years; those who encouraged and supported you during the good times and bad. Your parents, teachers and friends will always be there to support you, but you must remember to support them, too. Set the mark and be a role model for the next generation. Pass on the message that "the choices you make today, shape your world tomorrow." Good luck, the world awaits your contribution.

Assistant Headmaster Ms. Beverly A. Bizzarro

"The sages do not consider that making no mistakes is a blessing. They believe that the great virtue of man lies in his ability to correct his mistakes and continually make a new man of himself." -- Wang Yang-Ming

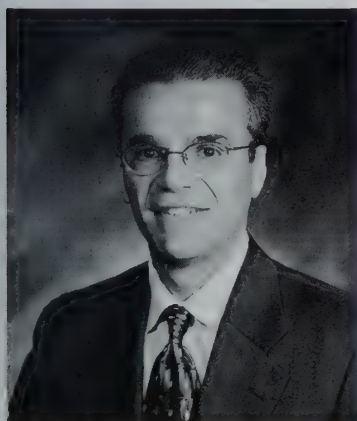

We have all, at some point in our lives, made mistakes. No one escapes that fact. The difference in people is that some of us take responsibility for our mistakes, while others find others to blame. I believe it is how a person handles his or her mistakes that shows real character. It is important to face the truth and admit the mistake. If you can learn from a mistake, then growth has taken place. That is the meaning behind being a lifelong learner, and not simply being one who reads or writes.

Learn to forgive yourself for your mistakes as you try to improve, learn and grow. At the same time, you will learn to forgive others for their mistakes. This natural progression will make you a happier person and a richer person in ways that titles or wealth cannot.

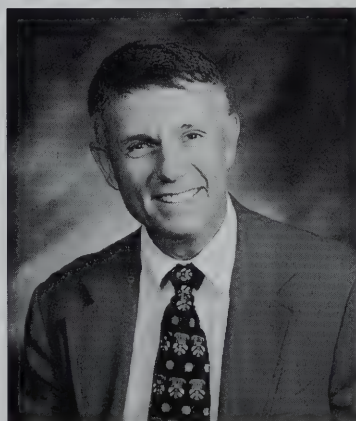

I wish you all a happy and rich life in ways that truly matter.

Dear Class of 2003,
Soon you will join the thousands of proud alumni of New Bedford High School. Take some time to reflect on your experiences during the last four years. Always remember the teachers who nurtured and inspired you, the great education you received, the many friends you made, and the fond memories of all the social events you attended. My hope is that your past four years have been a fulfilling and rewarding experience. As you enter the next phase of your life, whether it is furthering your education, entering the military, or joining the work force, I wish you success and happiness. We have given you our best and now the future is in your capable hands. I leave you with one of my favorite quotes from Eleanor Roosevelt- "The future belongs to those who believe in the beauty of their dreams."

Fondly,
Ms. Belli

Class Advisers

Ms. Maria Thomas and Mr. Marc Letendre

Dear Class of 2003:

It has been a memorable and most enjoyable experience for both of us being the Class of 2003 advisers. Over the past four years we worked together in community service activities and we had a lot of fun participating in all of the school functions. Now the time has come to say farewell. We wish all of you the very best of luck, success and happiness in the years ahead. You are a class of many talents and it is our hope that each of you will use them to the fullest.

Best Always,
Ms. Thomas & Mr. Letendre

Top Ten Teachers

You've seen them at lunch, you've seen them in class, and you've seen them patrolling the hallways. You know who they are! You've slept through their class, taken their tests and listened to them talk for 83 minutes. They are the teachers at New Bedford High School.

Throughout our four years here, teachers have come and teachers have gone, but every so often there is a teacher who stands above the rest. Throughout the monotony of the everyday routine, this was the class that you looked forward to, the teacher who made your day a little more enjoyable and made your experience at New Bedford High School a more fulfilling one. Whether or not you liked all your teachers, they have all worked hard to mold you into the type of person you want to be: a person that will be able to brave the open road known as "the real world." So, when the time comes for us to pack our bags and embark on our own personal "road trip," a trip into a new and exciting life, we can leave New Bedford High School knowing that we are "better than the best." We can thank the teachers here at New Bedford High for helping us reach our dreams and aspirations.

At the beginning of the year we passed around a student survey asking the senior class to choose their three favorite teachers. These were not just any teachers, but the teachers who left a memorable mark on us throughout our experiences at New Bedford High School. We counted the surveys and narrowed them down to ten teachers.

These are the results of the survey:

"Even though the world has changed so much just in my brief lifetime, some ideas and concepts might remain true forever. We must remember always that we are 'one' and that our diversity gives us strength. Never underestimate the power of simple kindness. It literally can move mountains, and even the human capacity for compassion that always leads us to one of the most meaningful goals in life: to find and create love. Always search for both truth and beauty. Never place limits on your imagination and creativity and do not allow indoctrination or authority to stifle creative expression and thought. Remember that the most important changes in the history of civilization have come through those willing to sacrifice much in order to challenge the institutions of power: Martin Luther King, Jr., Galileo, Emma Mandela, Black Kettle, and countless more. Never forget those you cannot see: the world's poor, the oppressed, the common workers, and the innocent children. Never fear questioning your convictions. Never fear questioning authority. Never surrender and be true."

Bumper Stickers

As we went through high school, there were countless people who were there for us; they encouraged us to go farther and hold on for the ride. Whether they came in the form of friends, teachers or many others, they all inspired us as we journeyed to new and different places. Support of our accomplishments have come in many forms. Parents came to see and cheer us on at events we participated in and teachers praised us on a job well done. Friends provided someone to complain to and stand together with to become stronger and more united. Even businesses that placed ads to help pay for various events and sponsor trips have contributed and helped more than they could have known. In life, we need support to help us, guide us, and encourage us on our way. Many people helped each senior complete their own trip through New Bedford High School. So, as this journey comes to end, we honk as we pass to say thanks!

"I am one of those who never knows the direction of my journey until I have almost arrived."

Beth,

Let your dreams be your North Star! If you can dream it, you can do it! We're so proud of you, Love, Mom and Dad

Dear Justin,

We remember: Wild Things and Lego's, brightly colored hats - so we could find you, falling asleep (anywhere), wiggling your ears, Cowlicks and beeper haircuts, "I hate baseball," waiting for you to finish dinner, watching your feet grow, endless hours on the computer, finally going for your license, doing yard work, and being there to help when we needed you (even when you didn't want to). We're so happy you are part of our family - always follow your dreams!

Love,
Mom and Dad

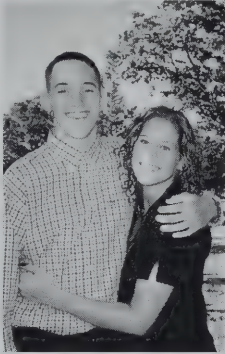

Bussy,

I can't believe how grown up you are! You have come a long way Justy Busty, and I can't even express how proud I am of the man you've become. Thank you for all your love and patience...and remember, although you might be a whole lot bigger than me, you'll always be my little brother. Good luck in all you pursue in life.

I love you!

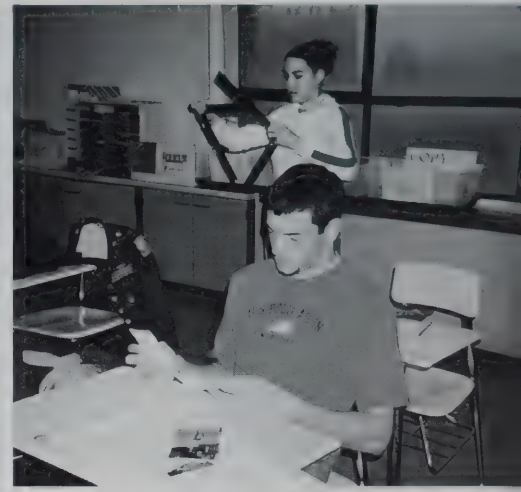

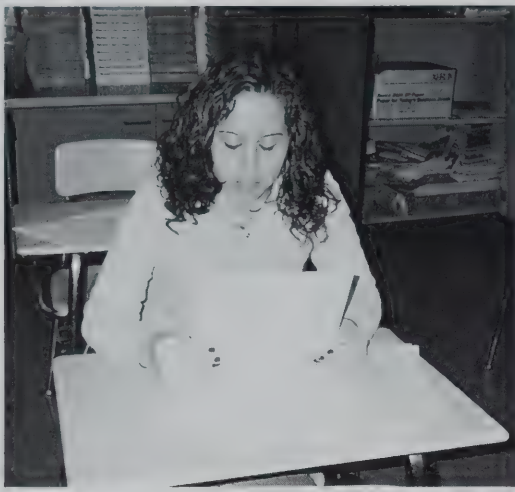

~Brielyn XOXO

Congratulations, Justin
Wishing you a happy and successful future!

Thanks to the entire Crimson Log 2003 Staff for all their hard work and dedication. The staff consisted of the two advisers, Ms. Oliveira and Mrs. DeSimas and the two editors-in-chief Susanna Damgaard and Jessica Pavao. The secretary was Cortney Lent and the business manager was Ross Maguire. We also had two copy editors, Nicole Francisco and Angeleena Tavares. The class was made up of Jose Aniceto, Meaghan Chevalier, Krystal Collazo, Daniela Cruz, Melissa Denning, Melissa Garcia, Aaron Griffith, Lauren Martin, Sharon Michaud, Cheri Robertson, David Rodrigues, Stasia Sylvia and Zinnia Torres. We also had help from our after-school staff: Shannon Alves, Sara Andrade, Elodie Barboza, Erica DePina, Joe Letourneau, Liz Masson, Virgen Melendez, Jennifer Melo, Heather Mimoso, Yvonne Monteiro, Geezella Tabares and Jasmin Tabares.

A special thanks is in order for Mrs. Cardoso, who took the time out of her busy schedule to help put this yearbook together. We'd also like to thank Mare studios, Dean Belli, and Ms. Bedletter for their patience, flexibility, and immeasurable help.

Dear Yearbook Staff,

What a great way to get to know such awesome students - by producing the best yearbook that ever hit NBHS. I had such a great time working with all of you and I will always remember the laughter, the "crunch times" and pizza runs that made everything that much easier to handle.

YOU made a great yearbook and the whole CRIMSON LOG STAFF should be very proud of themselves. Some people will just look at the pictures and appreciate the memories - YOU can look at the yearbook and know that the process involved was much more memorable.

Mrs. DeSimas

Dear Yearbook Staff,

I must say that you all did an exceptional job on the Crimson Log 2003. You worked together well and maintained a positive attitude. I have enjoyed working with you and have been more than pleased with your abilities and effort. It's been a long, difficult road, but it was fun and well worth it. A staff like you makes me so grateful to be a yearbook adviser.

Thank you for all your hard work and encouragement. I wish you well in all your future endeavors. The Crimson Log will miss you next year.

"What We Wish For You Most"

We wish for you to find your special purpose in this world so full of choices.

We wish for you to become your own individual, to set yourself apart from those who are the same.

We wish for you the self-confidence to say "no" when it is necessary and the strength to stand alone.

We wish for you the approval of yourself to love and respect everything that you are and will become.

We wish for you to reap the fruits of your talents, to walk with pride down the road of life, to be humble in your successes, and to share in the praises and joy of others.

Whatever you decide, whoever you become,
our love for you is unconditional;

Thank you for ALWAYS making us so proud!
All our love, Sweetpea, Mom, and Dad

To Kendra Lee,

I watched you take your first steps, now
I will be seeing you take another important step into the real world. I'm so proud of you, just remember I will always love you and be here for you! BEST OF LUCK!!!!

Love Always,

To my baby girl Melissa,

The best part of me is having a wonderful daughter like you. In no uncertain terms you are independent & goal-oriented & have successfully traveled the journey through Castle Park with its chocolate rides & strawberry slides. Remembering at 70 mph the pull on the wheel & not much later the walk into the door...wait "why don't we just use the sunroof instead?!"... (lol) You have always had your crazy ideas that I have & will still allow you to fulfill. Melissa, keep accomplishing your goals so in the end you can give Dad "That BIG Smile!" I am very proud & happy that you have grown into such a beautiful young lady. Congratulations in everything you choose to do.

I love you with all my heart!

KEEP SMILING!!!!

Denise,
 I'm so glad we're friends and shared so many high school memories
 together.
 We had many great laughs and a few sad cries,
 but together
 we made it,
 graduation is here.
 Together we'll face our futures,
 always being the best of friends.
 xoxo Hannah-Joy

Hannah,
 What can I say? You have been there for me when no one else was... You have made high school so much fun and I thank you for it! We still have so much ahead of us and I am grateful that we get to share it together...we have so many memories that will always be remembered! Hannah you're my best friend and always will be... thanks for everything...
 You're the best!! Denise

 You've made
 US PROUD

Jake,

You are so special to me and I thank God for giving YOU to me. Throughout your 17 years you've grown from a little boy who could make a room full of people stop and laugh - to a young man that can help solve any crisis that arises. Even as a little boy, your humor and enthusiasm made the world a lot more bearable to get through. Now as a young man, I watch and see your strengths and compassion for those around you.

You have become a strong, independent individual who is not afraid to make his voice heard. Jacob, set your dreams high and reach for the stars. You will become someone who will make a mark in this world.

I AM SO PROUD OF YOU.

Congratulations.

Love Always,
 Mom & Dave

To Our Beloved Daughter Sophia,

From the moment you were born, we became the happiest parents of a healthy and beautiful baby girl. We watched you grow into this mature and responsible young lady. Now that you are graduating from high school, you are on your way to exploring better and bigger things in this world.

Sophia, "Congratulations," you've made it.

"We are so proud of you."

There is a bright future out there for you.

"We love you"

We are proud of you and your accomplishments.

Enjoy your senior year!

Best wishes for the future!

Mom, Dad & Nick

I will always be proud of how far you have come in such a short time, I can't wait to see what the future holds for you, with all your beauty, charm and grace. Be strong and hold your head up, my beautiful daughter, Tyane.

I love you,
Mom
XOXO

Liss,

We've been best friends for so long now! We have so much fun & we share so many unforgettable memories. The most recent are those I cherish most. I've been able to watch you grow up into the most beautiful person. I'm so proud of you!

I love you!

Best of Luck in all you do, I'm here.

Love,
Miche

Jake, (Boomsie)

On October 13, 1985, I had no idea that on that day my best friend was about to enter the world. We have been through so much together: your first sentence, your first day of school, our puppy's birth, our Doritos, fruit punch & "WISA" weekends, the great DMV caper, and every other mad-cap adventure we have shared. There have been many good times and a few difficult times, but they are the times that we have endured together. When I suffered from the accident you were an enormous part of my recovery. Your wit, patience and comforting spirit are what pulled me through the MOST difficult time of my life. From the bottom of my heart, I am forever grateful to you. Adult or child, there isn't anyone I would rather spend my time with---other than you.

Now that you are an adult, and about to embark on a new era of your life, I cannot express to you how proud I am. Being an element of your world and having been deemed the title of "ANi" are esteemed honors. I know you are bound for greatness, and with you I KNOW the sky is the limit.

The years spent watching you grow from an inquisitive toddler to an opinionated adult are times that are forever embedded in my mind. I am not going to wish you any "good luck in the future" stuff, for you will always be an enormous part of my life as always.

I love you Jake with every part of my being---and I'll see you in DC.

Love Always,
Ani

Meaghan,

So many times you asked us questions. We always hope our answers to you will help guide you. Even though we always want to protect you it is very important that we do not interfere, so you will learn from your own experiences and develop confidence in your own judgment. We hope we have struck a proper balance. We appreciate the trust you have in us and we want you to know we have immense trust in you. We are very proud of you. We watched you grow up to be an intelligent, independent, sensitive young woman. You are an outstanding person. As you keep growing, always remember to look at things the way you do now - with sensitivity, honesty and compassion. When we look ahead we see happiness for you on every level. The seed of greatness lies within you.

Nurture it and there will be nothing you can't do! We often marvel at your strength not to give in to current misguided morals. It is hard to be an individual in a world of followers. It is so important for people to choose the way to conduct their lives, and because you've done this your relationships and accomplishments will be genuinely deserved. You will stand apart from the crowd. People like you make a difference in the world. We see you as a leader, a thinker, a doer. People respect and admire you, they see you as being intelligent, strong, creative, sensitive, kind, moral, fun-loving. We think you possess all of these attributes and more. Words cannot express how proud we are of you, only our hearts can show you how much we love you.

Meg - Always believe in yourself and your dreams.

Congratulations Melissa, "My 2003 Graduate"!

I know that your graduation day has special meaning to you. As I look back through the years, through the difficulties and triumphs in your life, I've watched you change and grow. I've watched your confidence increase, your thinking mature and each accomplishment along the way has made you better able to meet a greater challenge ahead. You are and always have been a joy to have as a daughter.

I am not only happy for you, but very, very proud of you as well. So, remember... graduation is the time to listen to your heart, follow your dreams, reach for the stars and know that you can do anything you want to.

I love you with all my heart and hope all good things come to you in the future. Keep smiling that beautiful smile of yours!

and also the serenity that comes from listening to your inner voice
as the world rushes
around you...

I wish you the satisfaction of seeing your goals achieved, and also the true contentment
that is born of simple things...
work well-done, friends well-loved,
moments caught and cherished.

And my greatest wish
Is that you will always remember
How much you are loved...
For you are a beautiful, special person...

As the younger brother, you looked out for me when I was experiencing a hearing problem at a young age. Now it is my turn, and always will be to look out for you no matter what. I may have been an inspiration and a role model to you, however, not only to me, but you are an inspiration to us all. Jake, with your quick wit, down to earth and positive attitude, it will take you far. All of those are contagious, and yours is worth catching. Jake, there may be tough hurdles ahead to jump, but no matter what keep focusing beyond the finish line, always go the extra mile. I love you, Jake, with all my heart!

Seventeen years ago you changed our world! We saw you as special from the moment you were born and could only imagine how your life would unfold. Over the years you have surpassed any expectations that we may have dreamed for you. Your cuddly cuteness has grown into haunting beauty. Your childish silliness has grown into healthy humor. Your numerous questions have grown into an insatiable thirst for knowledge. Our little girl has grown into a mature young woman; a young woman who has the potential to change the world.

Love, Dad

Christie,
Eighteen years ago, we could never have imagined what a wonderful experience it would be, watching you grow into the beautiful person you have become.
You have and continue to make us proud.

We love you with all
our hearts,
Dad, Mom, Tyler, and Grandparents

Best Friends
Forever!

All we've ever heard from other parents is that
"it seemed like only yesterday she was in kindergarten."

We have now become the ones looking back.

There are no words strong enough to express how proud we are of you or to let you know how grateful we are for filling these years with so much joy and laughter.
(OK and a few gray hairs along the way!)

Parents can only hope that the advice and guidance
we offer our children is taken.

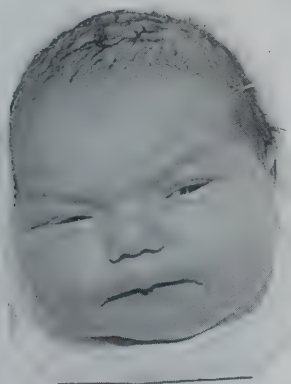

That for one moment they can realize that we have already been where they are going and will accept the knowledge we offer them of "life's experiences."

With all that you have achieved, for understanding the importance of values and morals despite the pressures brought upon you, and for standing up for your beliefs, you have proven to us that, yes,

"Sometimes I do hear what you are saying.
(You should have, we said it often and loud enough!)"

We know that you will continue to make us proud...

We Love You Corkster!!!
Mom & Dad (aka "Chubby")

We all take different
Paths in life
But no matter
Where we go,
We take a little of
Each other everywhere!
The Carvalho Sisters!

Suzy, We are all so very proud of you. You are an exceptional daughter, sister and friend. We wish you personal success, health, and happiness.

We love you!
Mom, Dad, Nancy, Doreen, and Richie

Jessica,

Congratulations as you graduate in the class of 2003.

Proud of you as always!

Love,
Uncle Ernie, Auntie Carol and Sadie!

Katelyn,
Stay as sweet as you are. May all your dreams come true.
We're all proud of you.

Love,
Grandma, Papa,
Uncle Dennis,
Auntie Debby,
Rebecca and Nathan

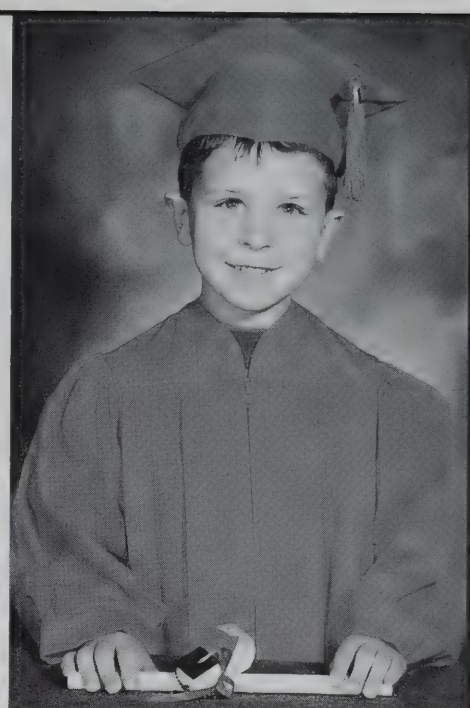

Dearest Patrick,

Go confidently in the direction of your dreams!

Live the life you've imagined...
Happiness Always...

We love you,
Mom, Dad, Tania,
Grandma, Neena and Nikkee

"Brenden - My Son"
 You are my son - this you will always be.
 I'll love you forever - for eternity.
 You've made me proud as you well know.
 But now I've got to let you go...
 It's your turn to do what must be done,
 So enjoy your life and have some fun.
 Don't rush your days 'cause
 there's time to spare,
 Just always remember "Mom"
 will be there.
 Good Luck this year and in all you do
 And don't ever forget that
 "I LOVE YOU"
 Love, "Mom"

Dyonne,

You have reached one of the happiest moments of your life, and I feel such great joy for you, but what is really making me smile right now is the thought that I'll be forever by your side to see you achieving those even greater goals in the near future and I know you will. As for me, I have already achieved my biggest dream- you. And you by my side is the only diploma I need to graduate in life.

All yours
and only yours,
Jonathan

Jonathan,

I am very happy to know that you are by my side during one of the most important years of my life. I wish I could describe the way I feel for you, but there aren't any words that can come close to my feelings. I just feel like the luckiest person in the world knowing that you are my boyfriend and that God was the one who put us together.

All yours
and only yours,
Dyonne

Somewhere between the procrastination
 And the homework and the incessant forwards
 And the friendship and the the nasty cafeteria food
 And the calls to each other complaining about crushes
 Somewhere between the phone calls to old friends
 And the "I miss you's" and the "I love you's"
 And the "What are we doing tonight's"
 And somewhere between all of changing & growing...
 Somewhere between the classes and the skipping classes
 And the studying for tests and the pretending to study for tests
 And the downright not studying for tests... I forgot
 I forgot what high school is all about.
 I forgot what it meant to cry
 I forgot that pretending to be happy doesn't make you happy.
 And that pretending to be smart doesn't make you smart.
 I forgot that you can't just forget the past in fear of the future.
 I forgot that you can't control falling in love.
 And that you can't make yourself fall in love.
 I learned that I can love. I learned that it is okay to mess up
 And it's okay to ask for help and it's okay to feel like crap.
 I learned it's okay to complain and whine to all your friends for a whole day. I learned that sometimes the things you want most you just can't have. I learned that the greatest thing about high school isn't the parties or the drinking or the hook-ups..
 It's the friendship which means taking chances.
 I learned that sometimes the things you want to forget are the things which we most need to talk about.
 And the sending cards to your friends makes you feel better.
 But, basically, I just learned that my friends
 Both OLD & NEW
 Are the most important people to me in the world
 And without them, I wouldn't be who I am today
 So this is a thank you to all of my friends
 For always being there and I Love You.

There are many people that we meet in our lives. But only a very few will make a lasting impression on our minds and hearts. It is these people that we will think of often, and who will always remain important to us as...

True Friends!!

To My Dearest Faith,

You have grown into such a beautiful and intelligent young lady! We have enjoyed watching you perform on the stage for years! From the day you were born we knew you were going to be our Special Angel and do great things; Your dreams will come true Faith. Be yourself and keep smiling! Keep focused and you will accomplish whatever your heart desires!!! I have faith in you and I know you will get there. Studying and speaking Italian in Europe for 6 months was such a great accomplishment. You succeeded and did such a great job in Italy. Your family, friends, and AFS are very proud of you. We wish you all the Happiness and Joy that you have brought us. God Bless You always and we will LOVE you forever and ever!!!

Excitement and fear fill out hearts.

Soon a new way of life will start.

Four years have almost past,
But in our mind the memories will last.

We've been through it all
And realized who our true friends are.

The ones that were there
When no one else seemed to care.
So as our senior year comes to an end,
I want to say thanks for being a true friend.

Good Luck

Driving Into The Sunset

Our exit is now in sight, soon we'll be turning off of Route 2003. All of us will be going our own separate ways. Everyone will do what's right for them.

No matter what, we'll always have our memories from this trip to look back on. The laughter, the tears, the joy, the pain, they will all be things we'll look back on and miss.

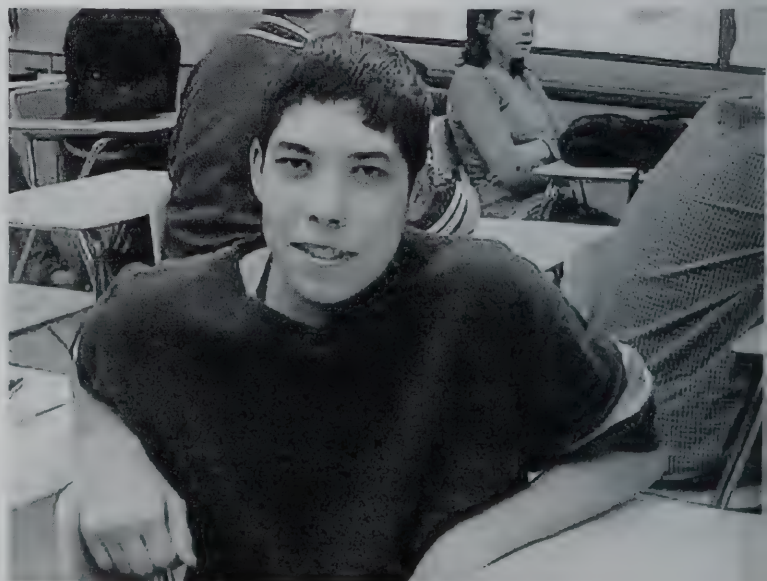

(Above) After four years of homework, it's time to put away the paper and pens and relax.

(Right) Mitchel Faria got ready for the school day in homeroom.

We'll miss the Junior Banquet, the Senior Banquet, Mr. Whaler, the Island Dance, the Yearbook Signing Party, the Prom, and Graduation. Most of all, though, we'll miss the friends we've made over our four year stay. These were people that helped us get through some of our toughest times with a smile and hope for the future. They were also the ones that helped us relax and let loose, having the most fun ever.

Wherever we go and whatever we do, we'll always have this common experience, the pleasure of traveling on Route 2003. So until our paths cross again, good luck Class of 2003, it's time to let our headlights shine bright!

(Below) School spirit was everywhere, even on the "student body."

THE WAR ON TERRORISM

Over the course of the year, the world's attention focused on a chain of tumultuous terrorist events. In Afghanistan, the Taliban regime fell from power as U.S. troops crippled the al-Qaeda network and cleared caves in search of Osama bin Laden. World-wide, civilians and military personnel fell victim to terrorist bombs and acts of hatred. On the home front, "bioterrorism" became a common term after it was revealed that Iraqi leader Saddam Hussein was producing biological weapons. Hussein's defiance of United Nation's imposed sanctions prompted the United States to seek world support of military action against Iraq. Members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization wrestled over conflicting opinions on the issue, while North Korean leader Kim Jong Il threatened to deploy nuclear weapons if Iraq was attacked. As tensions rose among political leaders, the world watched and waited to see what the next chapter in "The War on Terrorism" would bring.

New Bedford High School's 2003 edition of the Crimson Log is the 64th volume to be published. The book was printed by Herff Jones Publishing Company in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania.

The book has 304 pages, and 650 copies were printed. The size of the book is 9 X 12 inch and the cover is embossed with crimson with an original design by Joseph Letourneau. Throughout the book, Comic Sans MS was the font used with the exception of the headlines; these were typed in Harlow Solid Italic. The ads were in Times New Roman. Copies of the Crimson Log were made available to order for $45. Other optional costs included a name plate for $8 and a clear dust cover for $5.

A staff of 18 class members and 11 after school members collectively chose the theme: Road Trip, Route 2003. Many thanks to all of the staff and the co-advisers, Ms.Oliveira and Mrs. DeSimas, for all of their hard work and dedication. The students, as well as the two editors, worked in class and after school using Adobe PageMaker 6.5 on Dell Computers.
